

6 Essential Questions to Ask Before Choosing Your Equipment Financing Partner

At Centra Culinary Finance, we're passionate about seeing the foodservice industry thrive. We understand the unique challenges you face—whether it's helping customers open their first restaurant, expanding to new locations, or upgrading essential equipment. You don't have time for slow, complicated financing processes or endless paperwork.

Offering third party financing options helps you close more deals, reach a broader customer base, and provide the best solutions for your customers.

It also means you can eliminate the risk and hassle of offering in-house terms, allowing you to preserve cash flow, reduce administrative burdens, and focus on growing your business while providing customers with easy payment options.

Our commitment is to make financing simple and fast so you can focus on what you do best—supporting your customers and growing your business. Prefunding options are available for qualified partners, and our innovative tools allow you to access progress updates, co-branded application links, payment calculators, and more whenever you need them.

We want to be more than just a funding source; we want to be your partner in success. This guide will help you choose the right financing partner who truly supports your business and your growth. You don't want a partner who is just checking off the boxes, you need a partner that is actively contributing to your and your customer's success!

1. DO THEY GIVE YOU A COMPETITIVE EDGE?

When it comes to equipment financing, all funding sources are not equal. Companies that own their own funds have distinct advantages; they can give customers flexible, fast funding, so they can make quick business decisions at the right time.

THE CENTRA CULINARY FINANCE ADVANTAGE

As a self-funded, non-banking financing company with strong equity, here are some ways we're able to give you more control over your finances:

Direct Lending Options: Because we own our own funds, we can lend more flexibly. If your customer has credit concerns or is a startup, they can still receive financing without having to wrestle with complex approval processes. Your customer signs, and we send you the money. It's that simple!

One-Stop Shop Financing: We combine our own funding with a network of trusted lending sources to offer the best options for each customer. With us, you get competitive rates, flexible terms, and tailored solutions- all through one partnership.

Fast Financing: We can close deals within 24 hours, allowing your customer to make those urgent business purchases when opportunity strikes.

Flexible Payment Options: Our 90-day and 6-month deferred payment programs, along with early pay options, give your customers flexible choices that align with their needs. Our consultative approach helps match each customer with the ideal program.

Soft Credit Pulls: We prioritize your customers' peace of mind. Our initial soft credit pulls allow customers to get financing quotes without it affecting their credit scores, giving them freedom to explore their options risk-free.

Electronic Processes: The days of overnighting documents or filing paperwork are over. We use all electronic processes, making the process fast for both you and your customers. If a customer prefers a paper app, we do have that available!

WHEN IT COMES TO EQUIPMENT FINANCING, NOT ALL PARTNERS SERVE UP THE SAME VALUE!

2. DO THEY GIVE YOU THE RESOURCES TO GROW YOUR BUSINESS?

Your financing partner should be on your team. The best partners will give you innovative resources that make it easy to track leads, provide application links, promote financing, and grow your business.

3. DO THEY WORK FOR YOU?

Some financing companies leave you to do branding, back-office work, and application processing on your own. Your funding provider should be on your team! They should simplify documents and funding, making it easy for your customers to buy your equipment.

4. DO THEY MAKE THE PROCESS SIMPLE?

Complicated paperwork, prolonged verifications, and verbal interviews shouldn't stand between you and your money. If you want your customers to stay onboard, your application process should be seamless.

5. DO THEY UNDERSTAND THE FOODSERVICE INDUSTRY?

Industry experience is crucial because it ensures a financing partner understands the unique challenges and needs of the foodservice sector. Generalist partners often provide one-size-fits-all solutions that may not address specific industry nuances, resulting in missed opportunities for tailored support and less effective assistance with franchise complexities and key events. An experienced partner offers targeted insights and customized solutions that better support your business's success.

CENTRA CULINARY FINANCE: DEEP INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Our leadership team brings invaluable experience from the equipment dealer side; they've worked in industry buying groups, and consulting roles. This deep industry immersion allows us to understand the unique challenges faced by foodservice dealers and customers.

Why Our Industry Expertise Matters:

6. CAN YOU TRUST THEM?

Of course, your financial partner should be trustworthy. Do some research and dig into their background. Do they have a reputation you can count on? Do they have years of experience as a lender? Are they trusted by others in the industry?

CENTRA CULINARY FINANCE'S COMMITMENT TO TRANSPARENCY

We prioritize transparency to ensure customers fully understand their contracts before signing. Our partnerships with industry buying groups, associations, and publications reflect our deep commitment to the foodservice sector. We recognize that your choice of financing partner reflects on your business, so we act with integrity and a customer-service focus to support your success and maintain trust.
